Daughter May Help

Th[illegible] of Am[illegible] wo[illegible] [illegible]ss down many husbands and fath[illegible] [illegible] ... [illegible] to ... [illegible] ... requirements ... [illegible] ... sup[illegible] ... [illegible] to appear ... moral ... [illegible].

The following story from the [illegible] [illegible] this lesson:—

"Now [illegible], dear mamma, will you please beg papa to buy me that beautiful set of pearls at Tiffany's? All the girls in our circle have some, and surely you would not wish me to seem odd."

"My dear child, it is utterly impossible; your fa[illegible] cannot afford it, and even if he could, it would be a useless extravagance, entirely unsuited to your age. I consider it perfectly ridiculous to see children like you decked out with trinkets like some South Sea Islander."

"Why, mamma, how you astonish me! Why, every person knows that papa is very rich, and there is Clara Clinton's mother, who is acknowledged to be a lady of superior taste, and allows her Clara to wear whatever she pleases."

"Mrs. Clinton has a perfect right to dress her daughter according to her taste, but I prefer to see you in the simple garb so becoming to modest girlhood. Your father, darling, is very much embarrassed at present, having entered into some speculations which I fear will prove disastrous; we will then be obliged to leave this splendid house and seek one more suited to our means. I tell you this, my child, that you may not be annoying him for money for every elegant, costly trifle you may be pleased with. You know it hurts him to refuse you."

"And I have been forever teasing him about new dresses and jewels. I would not have been so unkind, dear mother, had I known what you say," said Metta Bancroft, with tearful eyes.

"Only thoughtless, darling," said her mother. "Now attend to your lessons; perhaps you may be able to turn your education to advantage, and assist your father, should trouble come."

Metta Bancroft was a noble girl. From her infancy she had been the light of home. With a firm will and keen perception of right, she never wavered when she knew her duty, and although reared in a home of affluence, and accustomed to be petted and caressed, she was not spoiled. Yet she was not entirely free from that great error in the female character, rivalry about dress; and, despite her resolution, she was sadly disappointed about the pearls.

In the evening, when her father returned, his face looked very troubled. There was a mournful tenderness in his eye as he met his wife and daughter with their accustomed kisses. The evening passed almost in silence, and when Metta had retired to her room, he said to his wife:

"Ah, the blow has fallen at last!"

"I feared so, William," said his wife. "But you have done all in your power to prevent it. God's will be done, we will not murmur."

"And will you consent to resign this home for one of poverty?" he asked.

"Willingly, my husband. I would scorn to keep up a false appearance, when we have not the means to support it."

"My noble, noble wife! You have lightened the burden of my heart. But will our daughter be reconciled to such a change?"

"She is a darling," said the mother fondly. "To-day I refused to allow her to make some expensive purchases, and intimated the reason; she immediately acknowledged the justice of my refusal, and was really troubled to think of the annoyance her many frivolous requests must have caused you."

The father's eyes brightened.

"Our reverse may be a blessing to her; it will bring out and strengthen her character."

"Are your hopes entirely blasted?" asked the wife.

"Even the furniture will be sold to satisfy creditors. I may possibly have enough to furnish a few rooms, and Mr. Green, of the insurance company, has promised me a situation. My salary will be barely sufficient to support us. However, we will do the best we can."

Under the ruthless hand of the auctioneer, every article was unsold. Objects of very great value were sacrificed at half their cost.

With true determination, on the day after Mr. Bancroft's failure, his wife set out for the first time in her life house-hunting. In a quiet street in Brooklyn, she secured the upper apartments in the house of an old widow lady, whose family consisted of an only daughter. Early in the following week they moved, and were soon comfortably settled.

Mr. Bancroft was happier than he expected to be. The little parlor, with its cane chairs and pretty carpet, looked so neat and comfortable. Never had his wife looked so beautiful—attired in a simple calico, her cheek flushed, her eye beamed with happiness, and singing a song as she prepared their evening meal.

Even Metta looked more dignified as she sat at a small table writing copies for her scholars; for she had obtained a position as teacher in a school.

"I never felt such contentment before," said the father. "Really, people of fashion have no idea of the pleasure they miss."

"And indeed, papa," said Metta, "I find more enjoyment and instruction in teaching my little class than during my association with people of fashion. The character of my pupils is an interesting study; no two are alike. I begin to think I have found my vocation."

"We are all fitted to excel in some particular avocation," said the mother, "and we should seriously endeavor to know in what, before we enter upon any work. See, my dear girl, the advantage of learning what we undertake, perfectly. If you had wasted your time and talents, like many a foolish person, you would not be so independent."

Metta grew up to be a true woman;—and although she never wore the costly pearls which she saw at Tiffany's, yet in the cabinet of her heart were enshrined those rarer and richer pearls of modesty, intelligence and virtue.

TO OSWALD TRAVAILLOT, Defendant: You are hereby notified that A. M. A. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true;
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 10, 1861.

Peaceable Separation worse than War.

If we understand the sympathizers, they are in favor of a peaceable division of the Union—if they cannot choke a disgusting compromise, dictated by traitors down the throats of the Union men. If this should ever come about the Southern States would have—they now have—an ambition to extend their territories an institutions over Mexico and the West Indies. This is the programme of the Knights of the Golden Circle. These enterprises would not only foster the military spirit at the South, but demand an extensive, permanent, aggressive military organization. The recent conduct of the Confederates, shows that at any time the loyal States would be in danger of sudden and treacherous attacks from that source. If, at this time it requires 100,000 men to garrison the national capital; it would require that that force should be permanently cantoned near it, for its defence. In this way we would have all the expenses and disadvantages of war without its glory: and after a cowardly surrender of principle, would be forever in a state of suspense. The existence of a large permanent army would surely affect our institutions; for the military would become an influential ingredient in national politics—perhaps never to be disturbed without trouble.

We have then, as the effect of a disgraceful peace, a standing army, and powerful and treacherous neighbors—the Confederates and the British. Now, let every man of sense and honesty answer: Is it better to fight the battle bravely, or sneak into a dishonorable capitulation, to the entire ruin of our country.

Where are the Masons?

In an address before the Grand Lodge of F. and A. Masons, in Nebraska, on the 5th July, Brother I. G. M'Kinney, in an address, said:

"In this hour of our country's peril, what is the duty of the whole Masonic fraternity of the country? Every true Mason has no difficulty in answering this question. On entering the very threshold of Masonry, you promise to be a quiet, peaceful subject, true to your Government and just to your country. You promise not to countenance disloyalty and rebellion, but patiently submit to legal authority and conform with cheerfulness to the Government of the country in which you live. This obligation you cannot throw off—loyalty to your Government is next in importance to fidelity to your God. Both are taught, and should be rigidly enforced by our order. No Mason can conscientiously take up arms against his Government; if he does, he forfeits the friendship and protection of all good Masons. I do not hesitate to hazard the remark that the large conservative element in the Southern States is composed chiefly of Masons, and of the three hundred and fifty thousand brethren in the Northern States, far more than their proportion, according to their population, have rushed to the defense of our glorious Republic."

THE SAWYER GUN.—There is one of these on the Rip Raps. It was recently fired and threw a shot into the enemy's camp at Sewall's Point, four miles distant. A man who was present, says, that "when it fell, it astounded every body. No one knew whence it came; it appearing to come from the clouds. Being from a distance of four miles, no explosion was noticed, and the first intimation they had was the shell falling in the midst of them. The troops beat a hasty retreat, and if a landing party had been prepared to follow up the panic, Sewall's Point, a strong fortification, could have been taken without the loss of a man."

The Advertiser says that there has been no rebel flag raised in Yamhill county. We have been told by those who say they saw it, that such a flag was raised there. The same paper introduces the name of Judge Deady in connection with this matter. It will be time enough to reply when this is done by his authority;—which we are sure will not be given.

Addresses of Col. Nesmith and Others.

Col. J. W. Nesmith having recently arrived in town, a number of prominent citizens of all parties requested him to address the inhabitants of this place at the Willamette Theatre. At half past seven o'clock, P. M., on Saturday, a crowded and eager audience was all agog to hear what was to be heard.

Col. Nesmith was introduced by Col. Wm. H. Farrar, and at once proceeded to address the meeting. He touched only upon the absorbing question of the war. He would have voted for the Crittenden Amendments to the Constitution, if he had been a Senator during the time they were before Congress. In fact he would have voted anything short of the acknowledgment of the right of secession, but he knew that the Seceders wanted no compromise. They scornfully rejected all propositions. He told with thrilling effect the sentiments of the insolent traitor, Wigfall. "Give me," says this cynical and incorrigible rebel, "a blank sheet of paper and permit me to write the terms on which we will remain in the Union and I would not do it. We want nothing to do with you. THE UNION IS DEAD! and it remains to be seen whether you will have it buried peaceably, or whether you want an Irish wake at the funeral." As this insulting reminiscence was repeated by the Senator, the fire of outraged patriotism flashed from the eyes of all but a few sneaking sympathizers with treason. Col. Nesmith denounced the acts of the Confederates as treason, and warned the sympathizers to be careful, that what they called a Constitutional opposition to the present war, did not trench upon the bounds of treason.

His speech was a patriotic effort worthy of the cause and the position which he holds in our Governmental affairs, but we cannot give it that notice which it deserves. He closed by declaring that he would vote the last man and the last dollar in the prosecution of the war, and throw his life in the scale. The audience applauded him cordially, and he closed with the good wishes of all patriotic citizens aroused in his favor.

Col. Farrar then introduced David Logan with some happy remarks about the spectacle presented in seeing Democrats and Republicans vieing in their devotion to the Union.

Mr. Logan was received with enthusiastic plaudits. As a general thing, Mr. Logan's oratory is bold and vigorous, and his ideas enforced by a singular intensity of expression, but clothed in language plain to homeliness. On this occasion, his remarks were characterized by unusual excellence in the choice of words. He spoke of the rise of American Constitutional liberty, the Constitution as the embodiment of the wisdom of ages, compiled by wise men—true patriots—with all the lessons of the past and the teachings of the present before their eyes; of its perfect workings, of the laws of our country—the result of the legal learning of ages, and the decisions of a bright succession of pure and fearless judges—and declared that under this form of Government, this Constitution and these laws, that the rights of all men and of all sections were secure. He claimed for the entire country the establishment of our independence, the inauguration of our Government, and its successful operation. As the common labors of Americans had reared this proud republic, so the common consent, Constitutionally expressed, was necessary to its dissolution.

Mr. Logan's [illegible] at this [illegible] of the stage of public life, was the source of hearty gratulations, which found utterance in loud applause with the feeling in it.

Wm. H. Farrar was then called for, and proceeded at once to draw a blister on certain sympathizers in this neck of woods. He was very binding on certain amateur editors, particularly a high public functionary, who thought that to hoist a Secession flag was "in bad taste," but had no smack of treason about it. This produced much consternation among the sympathetic crew; and at length Mr. Holman, of this city, took heart of grace, and made his debut before the foot-lights, to define the true sympathetic position.

Mr. Holman is a worthy citizen—of Southern birth—has relatives in the Confederate army—so he was sympathetic. The kindly, sympathetic, but misguided brother of J. D. Holman—the friend of Hinton R. Helper—was rather incoherent and much excited. He worried along for a few minutes, and closed. After this the brethren were dismissed with a few remarks from Col. Farrar.

During the intervals between speeches, Dennison's Cornet Band played National, patriotic, and sentimental airs, from Yankee Doodle down to Annie Laurie. So we had a good time of it, and went home satisfied that this town is tolerably sound on the Union question.

Wanted—a smile from the face of the moon.

Details of Eastern News.

Dates to August 23d.

PHILADELPHIA, August 17th.—Pierce Butler was arrested this afternoon by order of Secretary Cameron. He was taken to New York this evening en route for Fort Hamilton. The arrest of Butler was in consequence of intercepted letters giving information to the enemy. [illegible] B. Reed, ex-Minister to China, George N. Wharton, late United States District Attorney, Charles Brown, ex-Collector, and David Salomon, were also arrested.

NEW YORK, August 19th.—Russell's letter to the London Times says the collapse of the Federal troops, as it was, might have had no serious effect whatever beyond the mere failure, which politically was of greater consequence than it was in a military sense, but for the disgraceful conduct. The retreat and their flight seems to have ended in a cowardly retreat—a miserable and cowardly panic. Such disgraceful behavior on the part of the soldiers I should have considered impossible. I have never, even among camp followers, seen the like of it. In the present state of the troops, if the Confederates were to make a march across the Potomac, above Washington, the Capital might fall into their hands. They [illegible] place the event out of [illegible] of probability. The North will not [illegible] recover from the shock. Hitherto she has only said she will fight for the Union. The South has said let us fight for our rights. The North must put her best men into the battle or she will inevitably fail before the energy, personal hatred and superior fighting powers of her antagonist.

Commander Wm. H. Porter has not been sent home in irons. He has been dismissed from his command, but not stricken from the roll.

Governor Hicks is here to-night. He has no apprehensions of the result of any effort to capture Washington with the assistance of Maryland. The Secessionists in St. Mary's, and Charles counties are numerous enough, but they are disorganized and unarmed.

Governor Morton, of Indiana, now here, says his State will have eighteen more regiments in the field in three weeks—making the quota of the State thirty-seven regiments.

WASHINGTON, August 21st.—August Denglas, a merchant of Baltimore, was arrested here at 12 o'clock last night, charged with an attempt to induce Lieut. Heine to join the rebels.

The present war, in view of the late United States loan, is resolved into a contest between five million people without pecuniary ability, commerce or mechanical skill, and twenty-two millions with ample resources, extensive commerce, and ability to command all that is necessary for the prosecution of the war. There will be hard fighting yet and plenty of it, but the result is assured. An immediate issue of Treasury notes is to be made by the Treasury Department, dated August 15, 1861, bearing interest, to the extent of $50,000,000.

ST. JOSEPH, August 22d.—Intelligence was yesterday received at headquarters from Cairo that 600 troops under Colonel Dougherty left Bird's Point at seven o'clock last evening and proceeded out to Charleston, attacking 1,200 Confederates at that place, completely routing them and driving them from the town. The Federal troops lost one man killed and six wounded. The Confederates lost forty killed and seventeen were taken prisoners. Colonel Dougherty, Captain Lawson and Lieutenant Dawson, were among the wounded on the Federal side.

NEW YORK, August 20th.—Troops are being forwarded in great numbers by every conveyance, and by Saturday next about 75,000 men in addition to those already there, will be in the Capital from the ten States just called on by the Secretary of War. Enlistments are now made rapidly, the Secretary's order having given it a fresh stimulus.

ST. JOSEPH, August 22d.—Governor Gamble, under the Act of 1855, calls for a volunteer force to suppress the bands of armed men engaged in lawless enterprises against their fellow citizens, and concludes thus: "It is hoped that in this day of trouble and trial to our State, its citizens will come forward to sustain peace by the prompt suppression and dispersion of the bands of armed men who are now committing violence in different parts of the State. As soon as the troops are enrolled they will hold themselves in readiness to march at the call of the Executive to enforce order."

WASHINGTON, August 22d.—Much is said about the attitude of European Powers threatening the blockade. After special inquiry at State Department, there is authority for saying that in the instance where the Niagara was off the station of Charleston harbor for twenty-four hours, Lord Lyons brought the subject to the notice of the United States Government. With that exception, which happened twelve weeks ago, no foreign Government has expressed a word of discontent concerning the blockade. On the contrary, it is universally respected by foreign Governments, although some of their subjects are very active in endeavoring to evade it and are very clamorous against it.

The St. Louis secession correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin, under date of August 16th, writes:—"General Fremont received a dispatch from Washington yesterday, in which it was stated that an expedition of troops is to be fitted out for Western Texas. Gen. Sumner is to command four regiments of infantry and one of cavalry. The expedition will consist of some of the best soldiers in California, mostly such as have served in the Mexican war. They will probably arrive on the western border of Texas in forty days from now."

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' COURT.—Thomas Frazer, County Assessor, reported the Assessment Roll for 1861, complete, amounting to $1,760,599, which was approved and adopted by the County Commissioners.

A levy of 7 mills on the dollar for County purposes, on this amount, was made; 2 mills for State, and 1 mill for school. Total assessment—10 mills.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—This Court will be in session this morning, at the new rooms lately arranged for them in the third story of Stark's brick building on Front street. Hon. M. P. Deady, U. S. District Judge presiding.

PACK TRAINS.—Several large pack trains have passed through this city within the last week for the Northern gold fields.

News Items.

Gen. James Shields has been appointed a Brigadier General. The General has proved himself to be a good soldier.

At the latest moment before the election, J. R. McConnell, secession candidate for Governor of California, declared himself for the Union.

All our late news from the Indian country is favorable for peace. We should have no trouble with the Nez Perces if we could keep liquor from them.

Gold discoveries have been made in the Bitter Root Valley.

A good portion of the miners will remain in the Nez Perces country the coming winter.

A. Leland writes to the Portland Times that rich discoveries of gold had been made on a tributary of Salmon river, and that a large party had left the South Fork for the new mines.

There has been a riot among the Southern soldiers at Memphis, which was not suppressed until 14 of them were killed, and 5 or 6 dangerously wounded.

Senator Nesmith has directed the bonds to be issued on the Oregon War Scrip filed by him with the Third Auditor, to be forwarded to the persons to whom they belong, as soon as issued.

A large number of fugitives from Virginia, men, women, and children, in great distress, are daily passing through Western Virginia.

The city of St. Louis, at the last dates, was under martial law. Persons were not permitted to carry concealed arms. A heavy punishment was inflicted on such.

The Advertiser says, in relation to the meeting on Saturday night, at which Messrs. Nesmith, Logan, and Farrar addressed the people:—

"Not being present, we are not able to give the details."

But few Secessionists were present.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. The Doctor is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his entire attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D. Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War; Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds; Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary; the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours—From 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

☞ Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self Abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, to patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco.
